Corporate English

English training built around your company's work

King's Academy (Knowledge Academy Group LLC) has been teaching in Tashkent since 2015 and is an official British Council IELTS partner. We train staff of government bodies, banks, industrial companies and international organisations in English for work: correspondence, negotiations, reports, presentations and industry terminology.

Director: Eldor Sattorov — MA TESL (Webster University), BA (University of York, UK), CELTA; 10+ IELTS certificates at 8.0–8.5; former IDP Speaking examiner, former Director of the Continuing Education Centre at INHA University and former Vice-Principal of the Presidential School in Tashkent.

What your company gains

Loyalty and retention

Employer-funded training is one of the most valued benefits. Employees see the company investing in their future and are less likely to leave for competitors.

Growth from within

English opens international projects and leadership roles to your people, so key vacancies can be filled internally.

Efficiency

Fewer mistakes in correspondence and documents, less dependence on interpreters, faster agreements with foreign partners.

Better work with clients and partners

Confident communication in meetings, calls and exhibitions builds trust and improves the chance of a deal.

A strong employer brand

Companies that develop their people attract candidates more easily.

Measurable results

Entry and exit tests, attendance, monthly reports for HR and certificates give management clear reporting.
